August: The Month of Summer Spirit

Hi {FIRSTNAME},

August is a month in which the garden is bursting with summer wonder and there's a true carnival spirit in the air. The schools are out and the summer holidays are upon us. Now is a fantastic time to get into the garden and enjoy the wealth of seasonal colour that's on show, with beautiful plants like Zinnias, Cosmos and Agapanthus all coming into bloom. There's also this month's top 3 gardening jobs to keep us all busy until summer inevitably yields to autumn.

Importantly, season 8 of ITV1's Love Your Garden is now airing on Tuesday evenings at 8pm. Watch me on the show and find out about all the plants featured in each episode with my accompanying blog, released the moment each episode has aired. See me talking about episode 1 on YouTube and read on for your chance to win the signed Kent & Stowe tools I used during filming of the show!

There are plenty of wonderful events happening this August. The amazing Southport Flower Show is just around the corner - if you're coming, pop in and say "hi" to me at the Celebrity Theatre! See below for a sneak preview and information on how to get your tickets. The Big Butterfly Count is also now in full swing - I'd encourage you to join the nation in counting butterflies until 12th August. Keep reading for seasonal gardening advice, prize giveaways and much more!

Gardening Tip Of The Month
