February: The gateway to spring

Hi {FIRSTNAME},

January is over and what seems like the longest month of the year has been extremely productive! Last month, we got to grips with our New Year's resolutions—which I hope we've all stuck to and although February may be a shorter month, it's a great one for tying up loose ends. See my top jobs to get your garden all set for spring and my top plants for colour to add a spectacular splash of winter interest before the land begins to thaw.

It's also the perfect time of year to plan ahead with my recommendations of alpine plants for rock gardens and shade-loving plants for garden borders. To help you along when planting these beauties, check out the blogs below, which all tie in nicely for your February planting programme.

There are some superb competitions going live this Feb, with lots of goodies to be won. I've plenty of Mr Fothergill's Sweet Pea plants to giveaway and my Q&A event at the Newbank Radcliffe Centre, sponsored by Kent & Stowe, will be broadcast live on Facebook. Later in the month, I am pleased to announce that I will be speaking at the Caravan, Camping and Motorhome Show 2019, where I'll be covering a range of topics including the importance of nature for improving our health.

So, read on to discover my vegetable of the month and how you can make the most of your garden this February.

Happy gardening!

David
